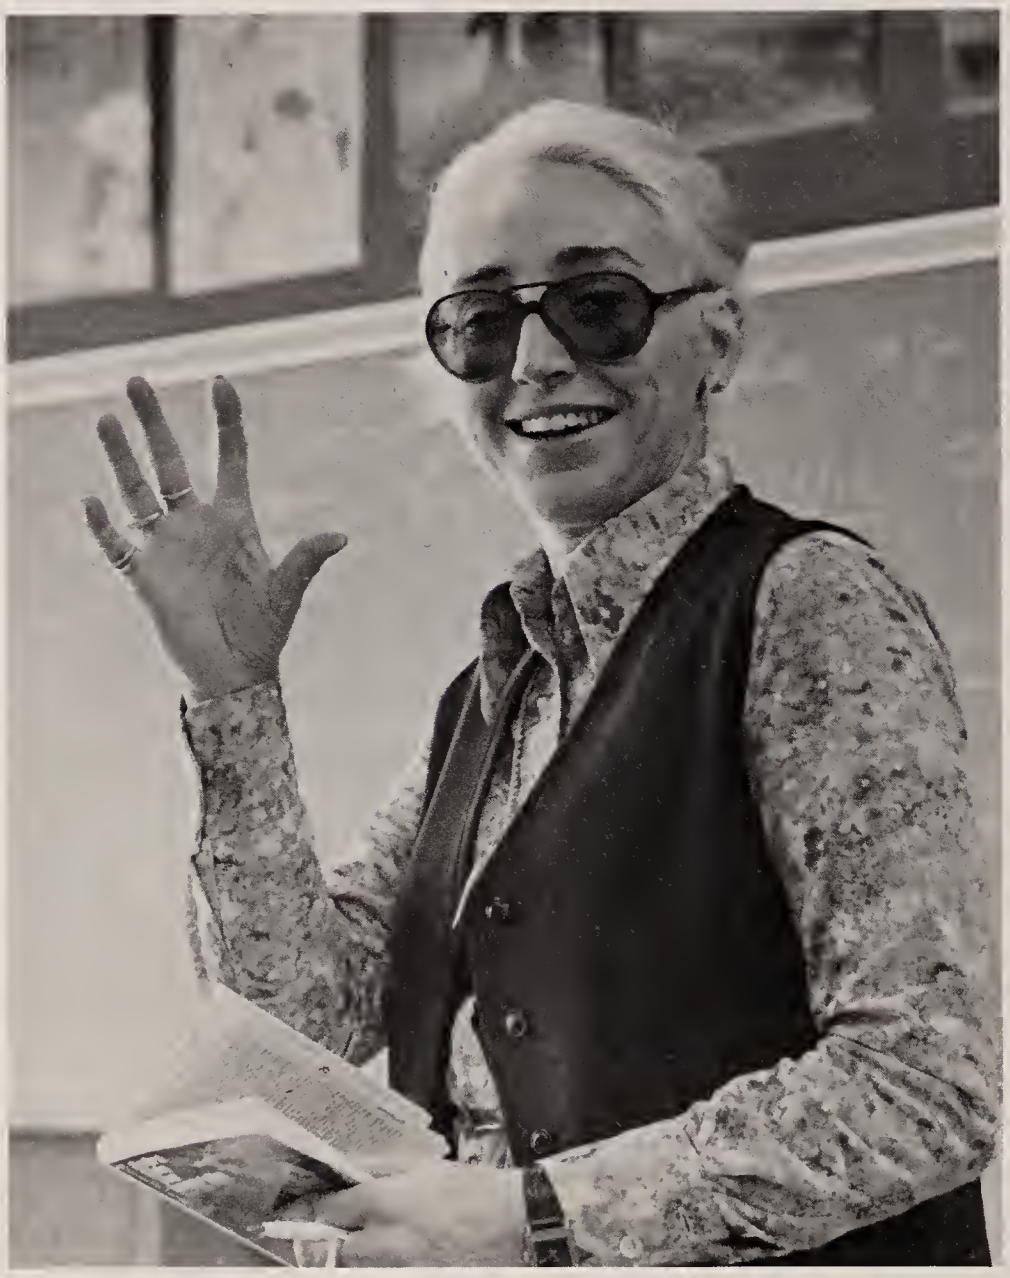
DEDICATION

The 1977 Yearbook is dedicated to Mr. John Williams. He has followed our class throughout high school providing friendship, insight and knowledge; and so it is with great appreciation that we honor him.

John Williams' realistic view of people and education has been an inspiration to many of his students. He is genuinely aware and considerate of us as individuals, and communicates and teaches on a personal level. It is this treatment of students as people with valid and worthwhile opinions that has earned him far reaching respect from faculty members as well as from the student body.

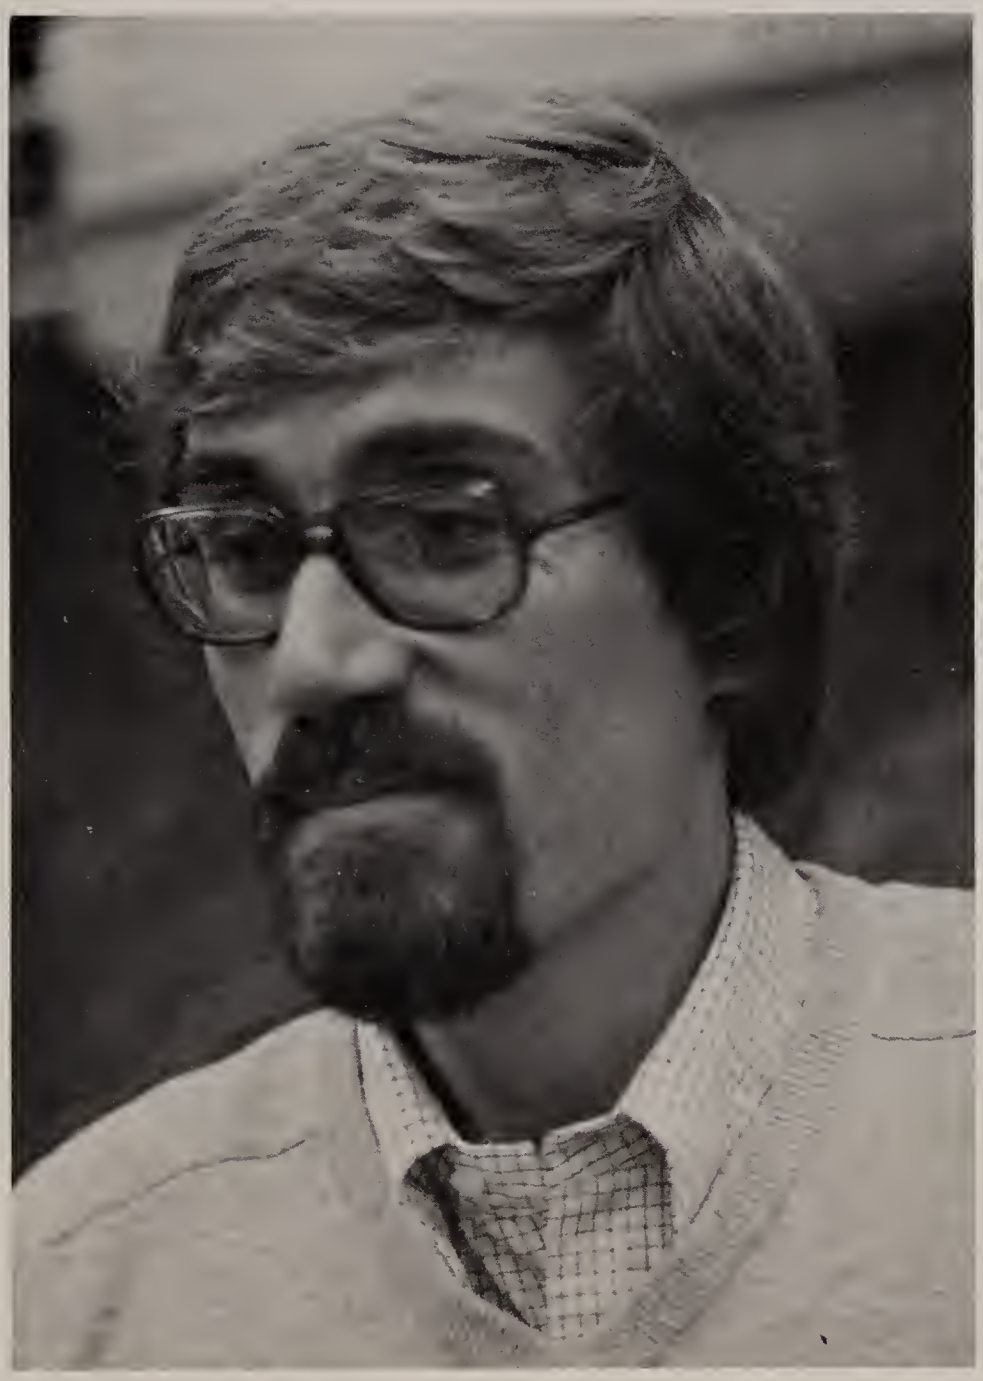
Affectionately we thank John Williams for all he has given us, and hope that tomorrow's students will hold him in the same high regard as we do. More importantly, we hope that he will never lower his high standards which we have come to know and admire.

RECOGNITION



Energetic. That is the way many of her students describe Dorothy Raymond. In her classroom, surrounded by plants and posters and bright colors, all which reflect her attitudes and outlook on life, Ms. Raymond teaches not only about English literature, but about life, in her bubbling, humorous, 'pecular' style. A friendly, level-headed woman, Ms. Raymond is often found in 201 talking to one of her students who will stop by occasionally to discuss anything from school to personal problems. A woman who seems to have life figured out for herself, Dotty Raymond, in the words of one of her students, is "just a terrific person!"

RECOGNITION



Joe Verovsek is a very special teacher and person. Though not easy to have, he only expects of his students what he knows he can get out of them. His kind way of teasing can set any newcomer to the school, whether student or teacher, at ease; an air of true caring and trusting follows Mr. Verovsek, and is sensed by everyone who comes in contact with him. Always on the go, Joseph Verovsek is ever cheerful. His philosophy is to have faith in justice and humanity, and this is reflected in his teaching. All he asks is that you give 100%, as he always does for his students.

OF 1977 * SENIORS * CLASS

A SPECIAL RECOGNITION

How anyone could manage to put up with our class for four long years, from that first bake sale at Christmastime to the Variety Show and Graduation, we'll never understand. But Ms. Cosgrove and Mr. Barclay have managed to stick with us through everything, no matter how stubborn we got or how fruitless their efforts seemed. We want to express here our sincerest thanks to them, and hope that they have enjoyed working with us as much as we have enjoyed working with them.

We also want to recognize here Mrs. Brown, who has been our class mother ever since freshmen year, working hard in the background to get us to graduation with ease. Thank you for all your hard work, you've been great!

To 'free oneself' is equivalent to forcing another plane of existence, to appropriating another mode of being, transcending the human condition. This is as much to say that, not only is metaphysical knowledge translated into terms of breaking the human conditions; it also necessarily implies a consequence of mystical nature; rebirth to a nonconditional mode of being. This is liberation, absolute freedom.

Vouloir, c'est pouvoir.

BARBARA B. HAGGERTY

Prudence is not a deity to be cultivated in youth. Youth is a time to go flashing from one end of the world to the other both in mind in body; to try the manners of different nations; to hear the chimes at midnight; to see sunrises in town and country; to be converted at a revival; to circumnavigate the metaphysics, write hating verse, run a mile to see a fire.

PLANNERS, DESIGNERS, BUILDERS

Put yourself right in the middle of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775... the first major battle of the American Revolutionary War.

Now, more than 200 years later, you can experience a re-creation of that famous battle at the Bunker Hill Pavilion, located next to the U.S.S. Constitution in Charlestown.

Sponsored by the Raytheon Historical Foundation, the Pavilion houses a multi-media presentation, created by White Oak Design, Inc., that vividly re-creates the sights and sounds of the conflict.

You'll be surrounded by fast-moving panoramic images, multi-directional sound and 22 life-size manikins in period costume. And you'll relive the drama and hear the words of those who were actually there that momentous day.

In 1976, the spotlight is on America's past... and your future.
